

Welcome back everyone! Summer has ended and term 2 has begun at Kei-Sho. How was your summer holiday? Did you do anything interesting? I hope you all had a great summer holiday, because now that term 2 has begun, there are no more big breaks until December. While term 2 has started off slowly, with very little happening in September, students are looking forward to the Sports Day and Keika Festival in October. Preparation has already begun for these events.

I first came to Kei-Sho 4 years ago, and a lot has changed in that time, but a lot has stayed the same. The sports day was the first event I participated in, and I can still remember it now.

End of Summer:

This year's summer holidays have ended at Kei-Sho. I can only hope that students have made the most of their 6-week holiday; whether they went to festivals with friends, visited family, or just relaxed at home to prepare for the second term. Some of the students at Kei-Sho even took the opportunity to go overseas. Six Kei-Sho students went to Australia as part of a 2-week study tour during the holidays.

Term 2 Begins (Opening Ceremony):

With an opening ceremony on the first of September, term 2 has officially begun. With a simple ceremony to mark classes restarting, term 2 began quietly but with big expectations from students and teachers. This is because, while September was quiet, it marks the beginning of the busiest time at Kei-Sho, with the sports day and Keika Festival just around the corner. Students in the sports day committee and student council are already busy preparing for these events.

Term 2 is the longest term of school, with no big holidays until December.

Hopefully you have all been refreshed from the summer holidays and are ready to work hard studying. - Lew
